AEROSPACE LOGISTICS SOLUTIONS

Emo Trans is a leading provider of aerospace spare part logistics. We work closely with our aerospace customers to keep their aircraft fleet in revenue service. Emo Trans Aerospace moves aviation parts from as small as 1 kilo up to and including major assemblies such as Auxiliary Power Units, Landing Gear and Aircraft engines. At Emo Trans we provide the aerospace industry with a suite of logistics solutions to meet their time sensitive, high value, distribution supply chain and order visibility needs.

24/7/365 Global AOG Service

Emo Trans AOG services: supported by a worldwide network of AOG towers situated on most continents is manned 24/7/365 by senior aviation logistics personnel. Our AOG service has been refined, and our logistics skills enhanced, to provide fast, dependable and efficient delivery of aircraft parts – 24 hours, around the World. At Emo Trans we take full responsibility for the entire shipment, point to point.

Next flight out (NFO)

Emo Trans' aviation personnel are specifically trained in aviation parts routing to identify immediately, the most time efficient routing of your AOG order, utilizing our unique NFO service. Our extensive global network of offices maintain a constantly updated aircraft schedule into and out of their locations, so that we can book your AOG part onboard the next available aircraft after order readiness has been confirmed.

Parts Exchange & Rotables management

At Emo Trans Aerospace we understand that rotatables often fall into most if not all of the following categories. Repairable Part, Serialized, Life limit controlled, often big/ complex components, are often very expensive. Therefore we have created a specific software package for the control of rotatables that provides milestone reporting from the moment that component leaves your warehouse to arrival at repair location, when the component is repaired and monitor from the repair facility back into your warehouse stock.

Aircraft Engine Transportation

Emo Trans Aerospace personnel have extensive experience moving aircraft engines around the world. We understand that engines are a highly calibrated unit, are of high value, and often covered by repair warranties, which will be declared void if the engine is not handled in accordance with manufacturers specifications. Emo Trans offers a fully monitored and milestone reporting system for transport of engines Globally

Odd-Shaped, Over-Sized, Over-Weight aircraft spares

Emo Trans Aerospace is pleased to advise that we have extensive expertise in the movement of over dimensional out of gauge cargo. This can include but not limited to the movement of components such as Leading Edges or Major assemblies.

Dangerous Goods Movements

Emo Trans Aerospace can receive and facilitate the movement of aviation dangerous goods, including dry ice consignments. We are pleased to advise that Emo Trans is committed to offering our valued customer base a dangerous goods service that is industry best practice, all Emo Trans dangerous goods service providers undergo extensive and continuous in-house and industry provided training, which includes but is not limited to the following:

- In house provided training in aviation procedures and documentary requirements,
- Industry provided training in respect to Dangerous Goods by Air acceptance training,
